Executive Summary

The Film

The Last Pharaoh movie narrates the discovery of a mysterious ancient chamber, but this discovery starts a series of events no one was ready for.

The Campaign Ambition

We are aiming to maximize opening weekend box office revenue, build sustained cultural relevance, & encourage passive audiences to become active ticket buyers.

The Main Objective

- Drive Opening Weekend Urgency: Create a “must see now” event mentality.
- Establish Broad & Targeted Awareness: Ensure the core demographic knows the exact release date, tone , & format.
- Control & Build the Narrative: Use PR, festival appearances , & activations to shape critical reception and spark the word of mouth chatter.
- Leverage the “Captive” Cinema Environment: Convert cinema attendees already sitting in the theaters into future ticket purchaser by utilizing lobby brandings, standees, & on-screen trailer placements.

Movie Brief

Storyline

Set in 1954, a secreet archaeological expedition in Luxor uncovers a mysterious ancient chamber containing a powerful artifact known as The Eye of Horus, connected to a forgotten Egyptian ruler called The Last Pharaoh. Before revealing the discovery to the world, the expedition ends in betrayal, mysterious disappearances, & a conspiracy that erases its existence from history.

Over 70 years later, a young Egyptian software engineer accidentally discovers a hidden message inside an old photograph, revealing clues to the lost expedition. This discovery sets off a dangerous chain of events bringing together Egyptian archaeologists, former intelligence operatives, international billionaires, & powerful organizations all racing to uncover the secret. The problem is this secret was meant to stay hidden due to how powerful it is and no one was. ready for the consequences that will follow after uncovering this secret.

Positioning Statement

More than a movie. A history waiting to be uncovered.

"The Last Pharaoh is an exciting historical thriller bringing the secrets of ancient Egypt to life combining mystery, suspence & adventure to deliver an immersive, thrilling cinematic experience for a new generation of moviegoers."

Key Positioning Pillars

1. A mysterious journey into ancient Egypt

Position the film around hidden chambers, lost secrets, mysterious artifacts, and the danger of uncovering the unknown.

2. A must see big screen experience

Emphasize the atmosphere, suspense, and visual spectacle that make the film worth experiencing in cinemas rather than simply waiting to stream it.

3. A modern take on Egyptian heritage

Connect the fascination of ancient Egyptian civilization with the interests of younger audiences, while appealing to older moviegoers and history enthusiasts.

Targeted Audience

1. Primary audience: 18–34 years old

University students, young professionals, and frequent cinema-goers are usually interested in thrillers, mystery, adventure, action, and major theatrical releases. They discover films through social media, trailers, influencers, and recommendations from friends.

2. Secondary audience: 35–49 years old

Established professionals, movie enthusiasts, & history lovers. More likely to be drawn to compelling storytelling, historical intrigue, Egyptian heritage, and high-quality cinematic production.

3. Interest-based audience

People of different ages who enjoy ancient Egyptian civilization, archaeology, mythology, puzzles, and adventure films. This group is especially relevant for interactive campaign experiences and mystery-based teasers.

Market Research

| Movie Name | Release Date | Audience Insights |
| --- | --- | --- |
| The Blue Elephant 3 | Summer 2027 | Cinematic nostalgia for Dr. Yehia's arc; expectations of Hollywood-level CGI/visual effects from director Marwan Hamed; and trust in Ahmed Mourad's source storytelling. |
| Avengers: Secret Wars | Summer 2027 | High-stakes crossover appeal is massive, but some fans question whether it can match the historic peak of Avengers: Endgame because of a perceived dip in recent MCU momentum. |
| Spider-Man: Beyond the Spider-Verse | Summer 2027 | Audience expectations for the trilogy's conclusion are “practically limitless,” following the heavy visual experimentation of the previous film, as noted by director Bob Persichetti at the Crunchyroll Anime Future Forum. |

Campaign Concept

"Some secrets were meant to be hidden, but the truth is getting revealed."
An ancient Egyptian secret has remained hidden for thousands of years. But we are bringing it back through a series of mysterious clues meant to reveal the truth behind the last pharaoh.
Our campaign is built to deliver a thrillling experience meant to engage our audience in a rollercoaster of mysterious events meant to uncover the truth. With the cryptic messages left for the audience and the pharaonic inspired theme, we would like to invite our audience to experience a once in a lifetime adventure to the past meant to relive the Egyptian history as well as spark their curiosity and scavenger hunting skills.
